This week's Learning Log:

This week we have been time travelling back to Victorian times, to investigate old fashioned toys. We have been comparing toys we have today with toys from the past, and looking for similarities and differences. We have also been playing old fashioned games and learning the rhymes which accompany them. In Science we have been continuing with our 'How wild is the wind?' investigation, which really 'took off' this week with the gales!

English

This week we have been completing some assessments to see how much progress we have already made this year! Our English lessons have been devoted to practising and applying our phonic knowledge. We have been playing games such as 'guess the sound', 'run for the word', and 'name the alien' by making our own alien words, as well as the classic 'trash or treasure' game where we distinguish real or rubbish words. We are practising these sounds whilst we continue to become confident with identifying, reading and saying each of the sounds.

You could:

- Practise writing words containing your favourite digraph or trigraph.
- Write a list of real or alien words to test someone in your house, to see if they can tell which are which!

Please remember to bring your P.E kit in every Wednesday.

Maths

In Maths, we have been investigating the measure of time. We began by reciting and ordering the days of the week, and the months of the year in order. We then went on to linking activities in our everyday lives with times presented on an analogue clock. We have been learning about units of time such as seconds, minutes, hours and days. We have been introduced to the hands on a clock face and what these represent. We will continue to work on our recognition and understanding of digital and analogue clocks over the next few weeks.

You could:

- Draw your own clock faces and practice recording different times of the day.
- Practice ordering the days of the week or months of the year, perhaps get an adult to take one away and see if you can spot which one is missing!
